WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEP. 2, 1874.

THE CANDIDATES FOR CONCRESS. We publish this morning a commun cation from "Country-Side" explanatory of his communication to which exceptions were made by Colonel Young. While we did not and do not concur with the views of the communication thus explained by "Country-Side," we published it because we believe in the freedom of discussion. When a man becomes a candidate he sets himself up as a target for the shafts of criticism. and the freedom of discussing a candidate's claims for office through the columns of the APPEAL will never be suppressed so long as correspondents refruin from personal imputations upon the integrity of aspirants. "Country-Side" had a right to be heard; but in giving place to his views we do not wish to be understood as indersing them, for we regard the individuals aspiring to a may resort for the accomplishment of these mination for congress from this district as among the favorite sons of Tennesses. The peer of any man in intellect, Colonel H. C. Young is known throughout the district as a high-hearted gentleman, admired, loved and esteemed by all. He is capable of adorning any station to which an appreciative constituency might elevate him. Thomas C. Lowe is young in years, but old in knowledge and tright in lutellect. He is one of the rising. young men of West Tennessee, and to certainly one of the most ardent and able young champlons of the cause he bas so much at heart. In our recent elections T. C. Lowe labored incemently for the ticket that triumphed If nominated he will proudly bear aloft the standard of his party in the approaching contest, and when elected, as he certainly would be, he would reflect honor upon himself and his district. Major Hosen Townsend is another aspirant for the nomination as a candidate for congress. He is a gentleman without blame and without represely. His record is pure and unobjectionable. His career is familiar to the people of this district, and we of Shelby feel toward him as the people of Virginia feel toward Gevernor Gilbert C. Walker, whom they have just nominated as their candidate for congress. Major Townsend possesses in an eminent degree those qualifications which would make him a strong caudidate, and which are needed for the high and responsible position in which his many friends wish to place bim. If nominated his name will flust from the APPEAL masthead and we will do willing service in his behalf. It is useless for as to say how earnestly | COTTON GINS, PLANING MILLS and zealously we would support W. T. Avery should be secure the nomination. He is known so well that it is almost unnecessary for in to say what everybody knows, that he is a pure and hosest man, a statesman of enlarged experience and of tried eagacity, and a patriot of unspotted and unflinching devotion to his people and his section, and we feel an instinctive assurance that his nomination would be halled by the people of this district as the signal of certain deliverance from the corrupt rule of Barbour Lowis, who has dobauched the negroes and long been regarded as a public nuisance. W. T. 18 Union Street, Memphis, Tenn. Avery defeated Colonel W. H. Stephens and Hon. John L. T. Sneed in W. the heyday of their popularity, and he can beat the Radical candidate many, SCHOOLFIELD, HANAUER & CO., thousands. He served four years in congress, and Tennessee never had a trusr son, no warmer heart, no braver spirit, no more chivalrous and gallant champion of her rights and interests, ber reputation, honor and fame, in the MEMPHIS, : : : : : : TENNESSEE counsels of the nation than Tom Avery. WE invite the attention of buyers to our W LARGE AND COMPLETE STOCK OF GROCKRISS, feeling confident of being able to offer them goods in our line at as low figures as they can be purchased in any Western or Southern city. We will give especial attention to the sale of Cotton, our Mr. Louis Hankury making that aspecialty.

Thanking our many triends for the very flored patronage bestowed on the firm just dissolved, we respectfully solicit a confiniance of their favors, hepting by close attention to business to mert the same.

Memphis, June 1, 1871. Such men as we have thus portrayed cannot be damaged by correspondents. The nomination of either one of there announced aspirants would be seceptnule to the people. But before the nominution, let us discuss their merits in a spirit of candour and concillation. The great metropolitan district of Tennessee must be redeemed, and her representative interest placed in the hands of a r.m. white, white with the part of the presentative man. We can afford to JAS, YONGE, Memphis. let the convention at Bolivar next Tuesday indicate our candidate though he may not prove to be the original choice of every voter. But we cannot afford to let this district be again represented in WHOLESALE GROCERS congress by Radical Barbour Lewis. Let us patiently await the nomination, and then in solid phalanx rally to his

AUTHORS AND EDITORS. Appleton's Journal states that almost without exception the present generation of American writers devotes much of its talent and more of its time to the editor's work. Newspaper editors, and those who would adopt journalism as a career, are rapidly multiplied, and newspapers in the south and west as rapidly J. M. WILLIAMS & CO collapse. Texas already has an excess of newspapers, and starvling sheets appear to-day, to be forgotten with the morrow, in every western State. Appleton's editor deplores the fact that the genius of the country is wholly devoted to newspapers tather than books, the production of the latter being sadly neglected. Perhaps it is true that few contributions of permanent value are now made to current literature, and thus the dally press is robbing this generation of what might be its best books. The journalist who might be a noteworthy, if not a great author, is drawn among the great unresting machinery LIQUOR MERCHANTS which, as Thackeray said, rests not day or night, and is finally, from fixe. Imisits, unable to give the world any other work than that meant for the day and hour. But the evil may not be so great 5. as Appleton's editor imagines. The form in which thoughts are given to the world signifies little. If not bound together in SOL. COLEMAN'S books, they are "cast upon the waters," and never die. It is the newspaper itself, and not its contents, which is ser Wholesale Price filst sent upon applica-tion to country merchants for all grades of ephemeral. Moreover tew men of our time can afford to write nooks. Even when successful the profits are too little Binff City Terra Cotta Works. for the time and labor invested, and arise too slowly if at all. Immediate compensation, constant employment and prompt payment must ever give the preference to journalism, and fewer books will be written and fewer newspapers published. People will learn after a time what it costs of time and money to establish a successful newspaper, and refuse to waste money and toll on sure failures. It seems that the press and book-making cannot go hand in hand and advance with equal step. The newspaper editor cannot be a book-GLAZED VITRIPIED SEWER PIPES maker. Incidents, tacts, progressive philosophy, in morals and government, must engage his thoughts and exhaust his enpacity for toil.
